The Indians are in good physical condition with the exception of Welmas, showed Saturday, namely, tackling. The men insisted upon tackling high and loosely all through the game, so this afternoon a rope was stretched waist high a few feet in front of the dummy and the men had to dive for the dummy low enough to pass under the tope. The backs have a marked weakness in this respect. They were drilled for nearly two hours. A short signal practice completed the afternoon's work.
